INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Stockholder
Andersen Weinroth Capital Corporation
New York, NY

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Andersen Weinroth Capital Corporation as of December 31, 2003 and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended, that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Andersen Weinroth Capital Corporation as of December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 8 through 10, inclusive, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2003

1. Nature of business:

Andersen Weinroth Capital Corporation was organized on January 7, 1998 under the laws of the State of Delaware. The Company, located in New York City, is engaged in the activities of a broker/dealer including providing certain corporate financial advisory services. The Company is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD).

2. Significant accounting policies:

a. Income taxes:

The Company, with the consent of its stockholders, has elected to be taxed as an S corporation, under the Internal Revenue Code which provides that, in lieu of federal corporate income taxes, the stockholders are taxed individually on the Company's taxable income. Therefore, no provision or liability for federal income taxes is reflected in these financial statements. New York State has a minimum tax on S corporations based upon the maximum personal rate and the differential it would have paid as a C corporation. In addition to these state taxes, local taxes have also been included in the financial statements.

b. Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2003

3. Related party transactions:

a. Administration fees:

During the year ended December 31, 2003, the Company incurred administrative fees of $12,000 from a related entity.

b. Management advisory fees:

During the year ended December 31, 2003, the Company incurred management advisory fees of $2,982,867 from a related entity. The amount due to related party represents the unpaid management advisory fees as of December 31, 2003.

c. Finder's fees:

During the year ended December 31, 2003, the Company incurred finder's fees of $17,500 from a related entity.

4. Net capital requirements:

As a registered broker/dealer, the Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Net Capital Rule which requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital, as defined, of 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined, or $5,000, whichever is greater. Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day but, as of December 31, 2003, the Company had net capital of $8,411, which exceeded requirements by $1,819.

ANDERSON WEINROTH CAPITAL CORPORATION

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT
ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

DECEMBER 31, 2003

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

Stockholders
Anderson Weinroth Capital Corporation

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Anderson Weinroth Capital Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce, to a relatively low level, the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited, may occur, and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report recognizes that it is not practicable, in an organization the size of Anderson Weinroth Capital Corporation, to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross-checks generally included in a system of internal accounting control, and that alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
